Required Course Text

Gregory, H. (2010). Public Speaking for College and Career. (10th ed). New York: McGraw-Hill.

Elmore, T. (2012). Habitudes: The Art of Engaging Communication. Atlanta, GA: Poet Gardener Publishing.

Course Objectives

Objective/SLO 1: Students will be able to construct and deliver responsible public speeches.

Objective/SLO 2: Students will be able to read and analyze critically materials appearing in the print media.

Objective/SLO 3: Students will be able to think critically and listen effectively.

Objective/SLO 4: Students will be able to use computers more effectively to find presentation materials in databases and the internet.

Objective/SLO 5: Students will be able to organize materials for presentation effectively in outline and bibliography form.

Skill Objectives

1. Critical Thinking Skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information through audience analysis, topic selection, evaluation of research materials, and the use of appropriate arguments in speech making.
2. Communication Skills: to include effective development, interpretation, and expression of ideas through written, oral, and visual communication through the preparation and delivery of in-class speech assignments and outlines.
3. Empirical and Quantitative Skills: to include the manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts resulting in informed conclusions through the use of numerical data as forms of support for speech claims.
4. Teamwork: to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal through in-class brainstorming of potential speech topics and class discussion of possible speech topic choices.
5. Personal Responsibility: to include the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making through emphasizing the speaker's responsibility to the audience's well-being with respect to claims made and courses of action being sought.
6. Social Responsibility: to include intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities through requiring students to choose speech topics of social significance.

Course Policies

1. Attendance. Instruction in this course is lecture and participation based, therefore regular attendance is required. All students start with an attendance grade of 100 points. You are allowed to miss 3 class hours (e.g. TTH 2 absences) without penalty and all absences after that will result in a ten-point deduction from the attendance grade. Students missing six or more class hours will receive an "F" in the course. Students will not be dropped from the course due to absences; therefore, you are responsible for attending or dropping. I do not accept excuses! You are allowed to miss 3 class hours without penalty, use them wisely. (Meaning, on your fourth class hour absence points will be deducted because you have already used your 3 "free" class hour absences.) If you are absent, it is your responsibility to find out what work you missed (either from another student or myself) and complete all assignments by the due date. You are responsible for signing the class attendance sheet for each class session. Your signature becomes official documentation that you were in class; if you do not sign-in you will be considered absent!

You will be considered absent if you do not attend the entire class period. That is, staying for only half of the class, or coming in 15 minutes before the end of class, or consistently coming 5-10 minutes late does not mean that you attended class. Two tardies will count as one absence. (This pattern continues in increments of two.) Those students sleeping during class will be considered absent.

Note: An undetermined number of unannounced quizzes may be used to encourage attendance. These quizzes will be given at the beginning of the class period and there will be no make-up quizzes for late students.

2. Late Examinations. If you miss an examination and have a legitimate reason for doing so, you must make it up within a reasonable time (normally 1 week or less). All arrangements for missing an examination must be made prior to the time the examination is scheduled. If such arrangements are not made, then no make-up examination will be given and you will receive a zero for that examination. All make-up exams will be strictly essay.

Note: You must be on time for all exams.

Students more than 15 minutes late will not be allowed to take the exam.

3. NO late assignments will be accepted. No late speeches will be allowed. However, if you are incapacitated (aka in the hospital) and provide an excuse you will be allowed to make up the speech with a 25-point penalty.

You are responsible for turning in assignments on time. Keep up with the course activities and due dates to ensure you do not miss a deadline.

ALL assignments must be typed. Failure to type assignments will result in a significant point deduction.

4. Plagiarism. Plagiarism is defined as "the unauthorized use or close imitation of the language and thoughts of another author and the representation of them as one's own original work"

(Dictionary.com). All work must be the original composition of each student. Although you must use outside sources, you must cite them appropriately. Plagiarism will result in a zero for the assignment. Assignments will be checked for plagiarism by any and all means available, including electronic checking services (i.e. Turnitin.com). The University and its official representatives may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of any form of academic dishonesty including, but not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work which is to be submitted, plagiarism, collusion and the abuse of resource materials.

5. Americans with Disabilities Act. If you are a qualified student with a disability seeking accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act, you are required to self-identify with the Committee for Continuing Assistance for Disabled Students at 294-1720.

It is the policy of Sam Houston State University that individuals otherwise qualified shall not be excluded, solely by reason of their disability, from participation in any academic program of the university. Further, they shall not be denied the benefits of these programs nor shall they be subjected to discrimination. Students with disabilities that might affect their academic performance are expected to visit with the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities located Lee Drain Annex (telephone 936-294-3512, TDD 936-294-3786, and email disability@shsu.edu). They should then make arrangements with their individual instructors so that appropriate strategies can be considered and helpful procedures can be developed to ensure that participation and achievement opportunities are not impaired.

SHSU adheres to all applicable federal, state, and local laws, regulations, and guidelines with respect to providing reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities. If a student has a disability that may affect adversely his/her work in this class, then the student is encouraged to register with the SHSU Counseling Center and to talk with the instructor about how best to deal with the situation. All disclosures of disabilities will be kept strictly confidential. NOTE: no accommodation can be made until the student registers with the Counseling Center.

6. Religious Holidays. Section 51.911(b) of the Texas Education Code requires that an institution of higher education excuse a student from attending classes or other required activities, including examinations, for the observance of a religious holy day, including travel for that purpose. A student whose absence is excused under this subsection may not be penalized for that absence and shall be allowed to take an examination or complete an assignment from which the student is excused within a reasonable time after the absence.

"Religious holy day" means a holy day observed by a religion whose places of worship are exempt from property taxation under Section 11.20, Tax Code.

7. Classroom Visitors. Unannounced visitors to class must present a current, official SHSU identification card to be permitted into the classroom. They must not present a disruption to the class by their attendance. It is at the instructor's discretion whether or not the visitor will be allowed to remain in the classroom.

8. IDEA System. Students are asked to complete an IDEA evaluation of the course and the instructor at the end of the semester. Participation is voluntary.

9. Speeches may be videotaped.

10. Classroom conduct. Free discussion, inquiry, and expression are encouraged in this class. Classroom behavior that interferes with either the instructor's ability to conduct the class or the ability of students to benefit from the instruction is not acceptable. Examples may include routinely entering class late or departing early; use of beepers, mobile phones, or other electronic devices; IMing or texting; repeatedly talking in class without being recognized; talking while others are speaking or arguing in a way that is perceived as crossing the civility line. In the event of a situation where a student legitimately needs to carry a beeper/phone to class, prior approval of the instructor is required.

Students are expected to read and abide by all rules and policies in the SHSU Student Handbook. The Code of Student Conduct and Discipline is found at the following link:

COMS 4378.01	INTERNSHIPS OFF AND ONSITE

Continuation of enrollment in this course indicates acceptance of the terms and requirements of this syllabus.

Speaking Assignments

General Comments

The course instructor may add additional requirements if desired. Students are to speak in an extemporaneous mode. That is, one or two note cards which contain a key-word outline of their speech. The typed formal outline is to be turned in to the instructor on the day of the speech. You must cite your sources in the outline. If you use direct quotation in the speech, you must use quotation marks and provide the proper citation. A typed bibliography (APA format) is required. If you fail to submit a bibliography 10 points will be deducted from your grade. If the topic selected is not appropriate for the assignment even a well prepared speech will receive a low grade.

The following topics are not allowed: abortion, death penalty, and prayer in schools.

ALL Speech topics must be approved. Failure to get topic approval can result in a failing grade.

Speaking within the time limits is very important, not only for the efficient running of the class but also because speakers in the "real world" are expected to adhere to time limits. There is a grace period of 30 seconds over the time limit. There is no grace period for speeches that do not meet the time limit.

Late speeches are not allowed. You must go on the day you are assigned. If you miss you assigned day and can provide a valid excuse (aka a hospitalization record) then you will be allowed to make up the speech with a 25 point penalty regardless of excuse provided.

Important Note about Sources: I realize we are in an Internet world however, that is not the only source of information. Many times the information on the Internet cannot be verified. It is also important that you can find a variety of information. You may use Internet sources in your presentations but they will not count as part of the required sources. The library has many paper and electronic data bases that provide better information and they are easier to use. Students will be randomly selected and required to submit their research material to the instructor. This is to ensure material is properly cited from acceptable outlets. If you cannot provide the research material you will receive a zero for the assignment.

Speech I

Students are to present a 4-6 minute informative speech assigned by the instructor. The speech should present a balanced and unbiased presentation of the topic/issues. At least three (3) different sources and two (2) types of supporting material should be used. The supporting material should be highlighted and properly cited in the formal outline and submitted to the instructor on the FIRST day of speech presentations.

Speech II

Students are to present a 4-6 minute informative speech on a current, controversial topic of state, regional, national or international importance. The topic should be one about which the class needs to be informed. The speech should present a balanced and unbiased presentation of both sides of the topic. A visual aid is required for this speech. At least four (4) different sources and three (3) types of supporting material should be used. The supporting material should be highlighted and properly cited in the formal outline and submitted to the instructor on the FIRST day of speech #2 presentations.

Speech III

This speech will be determined by the professor mid-term. It will either be a persuasive 5-7 minute speech or a specialty speech.
