Class Format: The content of this course is delivered through demonstrations, lecture, and online postings. Course concepts are learned through observations, readings, collaborative study, practicum experiences, presentations, and research. In addition, candidates work with mentor teachers in elementary classrooms for a minimum of 60 hours to apply the concepts, theories, and strategies discussed in class. The professors' instructional focus is to assist certification candidates in the process of becoming reflective practitioners. Evaluation consists of self-evaluations, peer evaluations, mentor teacher evaluations, and professor assessments using rubrics for products and presentations. The ESSENTIAL objective for these courses is that the students learn to apply course material and concepts to improve thinking, problem solving, and decisions. In addition, an IMPORTANT objective is that they learn the fundamental principles, generalizations, and theories related to the teaching and learning of the Language Arts.

Class day and time: Tuesdays and Thursdays, 7:30 A.M. to 5:30 P.M.

Class location: Reaves Elementary School, Conroe, Texas

Course Description: These courses are designed as a field based reading language arts methods course. As such, a high degree of professional commitment from candidates for certification is expected. At the conclusion of the course the candidates should understand the relationship between reading/language arts and the literacy experiences of children in grades Pre-K through 8 and the interconnectedness of content area knowledge and pedagogy. They should also understand and use a variety of assessment tools that will guide literacy instruction.

Course Objectives:

This course is designed to help you become an informed, reflective decision maker who can translate understandings of literacy processes and methodology into appropriate instructional decisions for children. Specifically, this course will develop your:

1. Knowledge of the theories, processes, and principles of children's language and literacy development from emergent through fluent level readers and writers, listeners and speakers.
2. Knowledge of current approaches--basal reader, language experience, and literature-based, the integrated language arts, thematic, writing workshop, creative expression and performing text--for teaching reading and writing, listening and speaking.
3. Skill in using language arts instructional strategies. You will learn various strategies for helping children become strategic readers and writers.
4. Awareness of diversity in student abilities, cultural backgrounds and language, and ability to use these understandings to develop appropriate instructional practices
5. Knowledge of children's literature, including those with multicultural emphases, and skill in using trade books to teach the language arts.
6. Ability to use the most current research to reflect on your own learning processes, seek answers to questions, and participate in and lead collaborative tasks.
7. Knowledge of the degree and probable causes of children's difficulty with classroom reading/writing processes.
8. Skill in using a range of assessment techniques to determine student's literacy strengths and needs.
9. Ability to communicate student strengths and needs with colleagues.
10. Ability to identify, select, and implement instructional strategies appropriate for meeting students' assessed needs.

Standards Matrix: Highlighted activities indicate that candidates in SHSU's educator preparation program interact with EC-6 public school students in a public school classroom in order to complete this activity.

IDEA Objectives: In this course, our focus will be on these major objectives (as assessed by the IDEA course evaluation system):

Essential: Learning to apply course material (to improve thinking, problem solving, and decisions).

Important: Learning fundamental principles, generalizations, or theories.

Course Requirements and Assignments:

- 1) Professionalism/Dispositions. You are currently in a professional course of study in which you are preparing to be a teacher, accountable to and for our priceless children, their parents, your colleagues, and administrators. This is not a responsibility that can be taken lightly. It is expected that your joyful and enthusiastic participation in activities as well as positive attitudes toward learning be exhibited throughout your teacher preparation program. Reaves Elementary School is our host school for this course. You are a guest in this school. That means your attitude and behaviors are those of the perfect guest: You look for the good things, you are cheerful and enthusiastic, and you show that you're grateful to be here. Professionalism/Dispositions count. (See below.)
- 2) Typing format. Typed assignments are to be 10 -12 point, Times font, and 1 inch margins on all sides — including the top. Single-space all papers.
- 3) Quizzes. Quizzes covering text and lectures will be given.
- 4) School Service Project. To show our appreciation to O.A. Reaves Elementary School faculty and administrators, each student in the Literacy Methods Block will create Anchor Stations for use in the classrooms.
- 5) Materials/Technology: In addition to the normal notebooks, paper, pens, you will need 5 Folders with pockets; 3 Folders with brads and pockets; 1 Spiral Notebook (for Reflection Journal); Colored marking pens; Audio recorder; Video recorder.
- 6) Chapter Readings. You will be assigned to read chapters from your course textbooks and will be expected to discuss and review the material with your colleagues during study group sessions.

PRACTICUM. A minimum of sixty hours of practicum is required for these blocked courses. This component is NOT observation. You will be expected to be an active assistant and learner in these classrooms. Your University professor and mentor teachers jointly oversee all practicum experiences. The required school practicum experiences represent a collaborative effort by your host school mentor teachers and university faculty to meet program, state, and national standards as well as school district literacy goals. You will not only learn the knowledge and skills taught through this course, but also actively use them to make a difference at O.A. Reaves Elementary School. You have been given the opportunity to help improve the learning opportunities of children with whom you work and assist and support your mentor teachers. This experience, it is hoped, will help you see yourself as a positive force in this world and deepen your understanding of your role as a citizen. These experiences listed below constitute over 50% of your course grade:

- 7) Writer's Workshop. You will a child through the writing process (prewriting, drafting, revising, editing) that will result in the publication of his/her own book. Lesson plans and detailed narratives will be kept. The final session will be an Author's Celebration. This event will feature the children reading their books to an invited audience of children, parents, and teachers. Evaluation: Writing Process rubric.
- 8) Sharing Books with Children. The purpose of this experience is to give you a chance to teach literacy through children's literature. Although you may be reading books to children several times a week, you only need to formally document (by filling out a Book Share Form) two of such sessions. Both book shares are recorded on video. These Book Share Forms must be turned in on specific dates (see schedule). Evaluation: Book share rubrics.
- 9) Developing and Teaching a Literacy Lesson. You will develop a lesson to teach to your mentor's class. This lesson will be viewed and reviewed by a teaching team, evaluated by a Mentor Teacher, and recorded on video. Evaluation: Lesson Plan and Mentor Teacher Lesson Evaluation.
- 10) Emily Cobbs Assignment. You will invite a family member to observe you teach (not during Teach Week) at Reaves Elementary School. Further explanation will be given in class.
- 11) Case Study: Part 1 Assessment Report. You will gather background information, administer literacy assessments, interpret assessment results, determine strengths and weaknesses, and recommend instructional strategies for one child. Further explanation will be given in class. Evaluation: Assessment Rubric

- 12) Case Study: Part 2 Tutoring Report. You will select developmentally appropriate materials to meet students' learning needs and develop and teach lessons based on the results of the assessments. More information will be forthcoming on the case study format. Evaluation: Tutoring Rubric
- 13) Class Presentations: From time to time you will be asked to present your learning to your colleagues. Some of these presentations will be formal and graded. More information on these will be given later on in the course.
- 14) Reflection Journal: Critical self-reflection is important in the development of a strong teacher. You will be required to keep a journal reflecting on your work with children, personal dispositions, and good ideas and materials for your future classroom. Bring this journal each day we have class. It is expected that you work on each section each week. The Reflection Journals will be collected and graded two times during the semester.

	TOTAL POINTS	500
•	Field experiences = 335/500 points

The instructors reserve the right to alter course requirements to better meet the learning needs and maturity levels of the preservice teachers.

Professionalism/Dispositions. In this course, everyone begins the semester with 70 points, the maximum for expected professional behavior and dispositions. Loss of points are a result of evidence of unprofessional behavior such as: absences; tardies; inappropriate attire; poor communication with mentor teachers; negative attitude; lack of initiative; impatience; rudeness; inattention. A loss of 5 points for each such occurrence can be expected. More points can be lost depending on the seriousness of the unprofessional action. In addition, loss of most or all professionalism points will result in the submission of a note to the College of Education's Professional Concerns Committee. The professors and your mentor teachers determine the final total of professionalism points. NOTE: If all professionalism points are lost, the final grades for READ 3370/3371/3372 cannot be higher than a D.

Grades. All assignments must be completed and are due at the beginning of the class period (7:40 A.M.) on the date assigned. Submission of work at any other time that day will be considered late. Assignments WITHOUT rubrics not submitted on time/date due will reduce Professionalism Points by 5 points each per calendar day late. Grades for assignment WITH rubrics not submitted on time/date due will be reduced 10% for each calendar day late. Each incomplete assignment, assignments missing completed rubrics, and/or assignments in need of revision also reduce Professionalism points and will also be considered late (which will add additional point loss). An assignment never submitted will reduce Professionalism Points by 10 points.

- Technology during instruction: The use of technology will be encouraged during class times when appropriate and directed by the instructors.
- Technology during exams: The use of technology during testing will be prohibited.
- Technology in emergencies: Accessing technology for emergency situations will be permitted with the approval of the instructors.
- Visitors in the Classroom- Only registered students may attend class. Exceptions can be made on a case-by-case basis by the professor. In all cases, visitors must not present a disruption to the class by their attendance.

Attendance.

This is a “hands-on” course in which the instructional techniques are demonstrated in class, applied in elementary classrooms, and debriefed in class. In addition, there is a co-construction of knowledge that emerges from rich class discussions based on lectures and readings. Reconstructing the teaching and learning that happens during this type of course is not possible. Therefore, regular and punctual attendance is extremely important for your success. Attendance also demonstrates a level of responsibility and commitment that is expected of a professional. More than two absences will result in a drop of one letter grade in the final course grades for each class missed. Tardies and early departures are recorded. Two such occurrences are the equivalent of one absence. It is your responsibility to call the school (or text a classmate who is already at school) if you are running late or going to be absent.
