Course Format

This online course will be delivered via an education software called Blackboard. It is important that the students have a computer/laptop and internet connection that work properly. For the technical requirements and the specifics about how to get started with Blackboard, please refer to the following website at <http://distance.shsu.edu/current-students/orientation.html>

Students are expected to listen to the audio lectures, read the assigned readings, complete the assignments, and take the exams. The homework assignments and exams are designed in accordance with the chapter content discussed in the audio lectures and the textbook.

When you have questions about the course content, feel free to email the instructor. In addition, On-line Discussion Board is set up for each session to build a vibrant learning community and to promote class interactions. Students' participation in class discussion is voluntary and will not be graded.

Students will be informed of the class updates, changes and new developments by means of mass emails and class announcements. It is important for the students to check the course website and the SHSU email accounts for the updates on a daily basis.

D= 270-314.99 points

1). Exams

There will be THREE noncumulative exams including the final. Exams are open book, open notes. Each exam consists of 50 multiple choice questions (2 points each). All exams are time-limited. Specific dates and times for exams are listed in Class Schedule on Pages 6-8. Before each exam, students will be provided with the detailed instructions on how to prepare for and take the online exam.

2). Homework Assignments

There will be TEN homework assignments over the course of the semester. Assignments are worth 15 points each. They are designed to enhance students' understanding of the course content and to measure your ability to apply this understanding to real world problems. Each student is expected to turn in his/her homework assignment on an individual basis. Refer to Class Schedule on Pages 6-8 for the specific due date for each homework assignment. THREE important issues related to homework assignments listed below deserve your special attention:

A) Homework Preparation:

a. The required length of the assignments is 2-3 full pages (double-space). This does not include the references section if you have references. The cover page is not required.

b. Assignments must be typed and well organized. Make sure your name appears in the top-right or top-left corner of the first page.

c. Use Times New Roman 12 font; use 1 inch margins.

d. Assignments must be free of spelling and grammar errors.

e. You can structure the assignments in essay format or by using bullet points as long as they are clearly explained and get to the point.

f. Microsoft Word (MS) and PDF are the only two formats in which your homework assignments shall be prepared and submitted. The image-format files such as JPG and JPEG inserted into a Word document will not be considered as one of the required formats. Homework submissions prepared in the formats other than the MS or PDF described above will automatically result in a grade of zero.

g. In preparing your assignments, if you use sources other than the lecture notes, textbook or the assignment context, you are expected to cite your sources properly. Please be noted that you must answer questions by using your own words and outside sources should be used to enhance your response – not write the response for you! In the rare situations where you feel strongly about using other’s ideas word by word, please identify it by adding quotation marks and proper citation. Directly copying and pasting others’ work or ideas without proper citations constitutes plagiarism. Refer to “Academic Honesty” stated in the syllabus for subsequent consequences associated with this type of behavior.

B) Homework Submission:

The due time and days of your homework assignments are always by 8:00:00pm (CST) on Saturdays. Homework must be submitted online; email submission will not be accepted except in cases of emergency or tech problems. For how to submit the assignments online, please refer to “Instructions on Submitting Assignments to the Course” included in Session 1. Every student has only one opportunity to submit his/her homework online. Before the online submission, please double check to make sure that the version to be submit is correct and final. It is suggested that you submit your work at least one hour prior to the deadline in case tech problem occurs at the time of your submission. Late submission will not be accepted except in an emergency.

In case you encounter a tech problem that precludes you from submitting your work, do the following two things:

First, take a photo of your computer screen that shows the error message. Write an email and attach the photo of the error message to the instructor immediately.

Second, call the SHSU Online Support Desk immediately and carefully document the information about the call (e.g., the specific time the call is made, the name of the technician you speak to, the type of tech problem you are told, the length of your call). So the instructor can verify the information with the technician(s) in order to consider a proper solution for the situation(s).

Please be noted that this 2-step strategy described above is also applied to the tech-problem situations in the three exams.

C) Be aware of the service hours by the SHSU Online Support Desk:

The service hours of the SHSU Online Support Desk are listed on page 2. If you choose to listen to the videos, do your homework assignments or take the exam outside of the service hours, you will be responsible for any inconvenience caused by the potential tech problem(s) of your computer/laptop or internet. It is highly recommended to work on the course within the service hours of the Online Support Desk, so you can receive the tech support right away if needed.

Make-up Work

Exams and homework assignments must be completed and turned in on the due dates (or the amended due dates if later clarified by the instructor). If an unavoidable conflict with one of the dates exists (e.g., medical situation, job interview, family-related emergency), please contact the instructor before the test is administered or an assignment becomes due. Failure to turn in homework assignments or take an exam on the scheduled date, without making prior arrangements, will result in a zero on that particular exercise. Giving a make-up exam is at instructor's discretion with valid excuse provided by students. The excuse must be written and appropriately documented.

Reading Assignments

You are expected to read each assigned reading in the Reading Assignments list. Reading the assignments will better prepare you for the lectures.

Any student desiring to be absent in order to observe a religious holy days(s) should meet with the instructor in the first two weeks of the course to discuss appropriate times to make up any work to be missed.
