

LITC 7088: Second Language Acquisition
Fall 2017
College of Education
Department of Language, Literacy, and Special Populations

LITC 7088 is an elective course for Ed.D. in Literacy Program

Instructor Dr. Burcu Ates, Associate Professor
Office: TEC 139
P.O. Box 2119/SHSU
TEL: 936-294-4971
FAX: 936-294-1131
EMAIL: ates@shsu.edu (best method of contacting the instructor)

Office Hours: Virtual Office Hours by Appointment on Skype or anytime you see me online on Skype)

Skype username info is provided on Blackboard (see Virtual Office tab)

Class Format: LITC 7088 is taken in conjunction with Ed.D. in Literacy Program. It is a hybrid course. It involves both face to face and online meetings, assignments and discussions. The format for learning and interaction will include reading, researching, independent work, and presentations.

Class day and time: 5:30pm-8:20pm, Tuesdays

Class Location: The Woodlands Center and Online

Course Description: LITC 7088 Second Language Acquisition. This course is designed to provide the students with an opportunity to reflect and further develop their understanding of both theoretical and practical considerations in the field of language learning and teaching. It will encourage the students to develop a broad theoretical base reflecting on current research within applied linguistics and related disciplines. In addition, the course makes links between the different disciplines, which contribute to our knowledge of language learning, and issues related to language pedagogy.

Textbook:

Ellis, R. (2015). Understanding Second Language Acquisition. Oxford, UK: Oxford University Press

Suggested Supplementary Book:

American Psychological Association (APA) (2010). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (6th edition) Washington, DC: APA

Required Materials: Internet Access, E-mail address

Course Objectives: Students will demonstrate understanding, knowledge, and skills related to the following:

- 1) identify and describe different theoretical approaches to second language acquisition;
- 2) analyze second language data in terms of these different approaches;
- 3) read and critique literature in the field of second language acquisition;
- 4) evaluate the applicability of second language acquisition theory to language teaching;
- 5) design a theoretically well-motivated and viable second language acquisition research project.

IDEA Objectives: In this course, our focus will be on these major objectives (as assessed by the IDEA course evaluation system):

Essential: Gaining factual knowledge (terminology, classifications, methods, trends); Learning to apply course material (to improve thinking, problem solving, and decisions).

Important: Developing specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course.

Course/Instructor Requirements:

Late Assignment Policy: Please pay special attention to observe the due dates for each of the assignments. If you are aware of problems or special situations BEFORE the due dates contact the professor for special arrangements. If your work is submitted later than the day specified, the following points are deducted from the assignment:

1. Up to 24 hours-25% of the total assessed points are deducted.
2. 25-72 hours-50% of the total assessed points are deducted.
3. After 72 hours late assignment will NOT be accepted.

Time Requirement: For each hour of class, you will be expected to commit at least an hour outside of class. It is expected that if you enroll in this course, you can meet the time requirements

Course Outline

Assignments:

1. Tell us about yourself: Please write a paragraph or two about yourself. More information will be provided in the discussion section for the week on Blackboard.

2. Online discussions (6 x 35 pts. = 210 pts.): Every other week when we meet online, there will be one online discussion based upon the readings for the week. Due dates vary/See below within the course calendar.

3. Discussion Leader (100 pts)

A separate detailed handout on online discussion expectations and guidelines will be posted on Blackboard.*

4. Weekly Reflections on Assigned Readings/Classroom Discussions (5 x 30 pts. = 150 pts.)

There will be 5 no longer than two pages, double spaced responses to reading assignments and class discussions on face to face classes we will have. These will be due online on various Sundays.

These reflections are to be analytic rather than mere summaries of the material. The page should reflect how the current readings/class discussion relevant to you. You may write about implications: pedagogical, linguistic-theoretical, or research. For example, you can reflect on their implications for ESL/EFL teaching practice. For example, what do these ideas/concepts suggest about how curricula, syllabi, and lessons should be structured? What do these ideas/concepts suggest about the types of tasks teachers should use in their classes?

What gaps still exist in the field?

Due dates vary/See below within the course calendar.

5. Article Summary (100 pts.)

The purpose of this assignment is to have you summarize current research studies/articles in SLA. The article should focus on topics related to SLA. Students will select an article of their choice from a reputable professional research-based journal. The studies that you will choose to review should be published studies with authentic data. Make sure you stay away from literature review type of study, commentaries, analysis, or theoretical discussions. In other words, the study should have used real data to answer its research questions.

It should include the following information: (a) article information in APA format (6th edition), (b) the general question(s) examined in the article, (c) the specific research questions/hypotheses, (d) a summary of the methodological details (e.g., #of subjects, sample materials, tasks, etc.), (e) a summary of the findings (including a discussion of what these findings mean with respect to the research questions), and (f) your comments/critique (for example, include a paragraph on how it relates to the literature we have studied; (if any) holes in the methodology, what could have been done differently). These reports should be no longer than three pages (double spaced).

The following journals are great resources: Second Language Research, TESOL Quarterly, The Modern Language Journal, System, Foreign Language Annals, and Applied Linguistics. You do not have to use these journals and can find your own, however, it will help you get started.

The publication date of the article should be from the year 2012 and forward.

More information about this assignment is posted on Blackboard.*

6. Article Critique (100 pts.)

The purpose of this assignment is to have you critique current research studies/articles in SLA.

Students will select an article of their choice from a reputable professional research-based journal. The article should focus on research studies (empirical) related to SLA. The reaction paper should be approximately two or three double-spaced pages in length. The paper should include a short summary of the article (about one paragraph), followed by your reaction to the article (more details on this will be provided). Please use APA format (6th edition) when citing the article. The following journals are great resources: Second Language Research, TESOL Quarterly, The Modern Language Journal, System, Foreign Language Annals, and Applied Linguistics. You do not have to use these journals and can find your own, but they are great resources for you to start with.

The publication date of the article should be from the year 2012 and forward.

More information about this assignment is posted on Blackboard.*

7. Research Proposal Project

(Literature review presentation (40 pts) + Literature review (75 pts) + Research design presentation (50 pts) + Research design paper (75 pts) + Final paper (100) pts. = 340 pts.)

In this project, you will propose a study to investigate a specific research question in SLA. More details will be provided in class as well as on Blackboard.

Electronic Response

Instructor reserves the right to respond to emails within 48 hours of receipt. Students should not expect an immediate response. However, most responses will be within 24 hours of receipt. Instructor also reserves the right to respond or not respond to student emails during weekends, holiday breaks, and semester breaks. You should assume that emails and phone calls will NOT be returned during weekends, holiday breaks, and semester breaks.

- Visitors in the classroom- Only registered students may attend class. Exceptions can be made on a case-by-case basis by the professor. In all cases, visitors must not present a disruption to the class by their attendance.

Attendance

- Student Attendance for BESL 5304: Lack of active and timely participation in online discussions or in assignments constitutes an absence from class. Absences from class will result in a grade penalty. More than two absences from online discussions will result in a grade deduction for every absence thereafter. Excused absences are permitted for emergencies or illnesses but are excused at the discretion of the instructor unless otherwise stated.

Course Expectations

- Active Participation: All members of this class are responsible for the learning that occurs. In this course, you are expected to share personal views and experiences (as you are comfortable) in online discussions, as well as prepare and “present” material in the online forum. It is critical that you stay current with readings and assignments. You are required to read all of the assigned materials and respond daily. In addition, you are required to respond to postings and submit all materials (papers) on time.
- Professionalism Policy: Since you are studying to be educational role models, you will be expected to display professional behavior in all aspects during online class time.
