Office hours: Online, email and phone

Day and time the class meets: Online

Location of class: Online

Course Format: BESL 2301 Multicultural Influences on Learning is an online course. Class sessions will include a combination of assigned readings, online discussions, assignments, quizzes and exams. This course will also utilize BlackBoard for communication, information sharing, assignment submission, and assessments.

Since this is an online course, please be sure to check your SHSU email daily.

Course Description: This course builds and expands prior professional knowledge, preparation, and experience fostering astute awareness, knowledge, and skills so that individuals may interact in learning environments with learners whose cultural background may differ from their own. Major emphasis will be placed on the influence of culture, importance of understanding our own cultural backgrounds and experiences, and the micro cultures of class, ethnicity, race, gender, age, and language on education. The course develops knowledge on issues impacting the public schools and society in the area of diversity to help understand intellectual, social, physical, and emotional developmental characteristics of persons in different age, language, culture, race, social class, and educational areas. It also provides an overview on the diversity and richness of our multicultural nation, and how the differences expand rather than limit one's education. Prerequisite: None. Credit 3.

Textbook: Bucher, R.D. (2015). Diversity consciousness (4th ed.). Upper Saddle River, NJ: Pearson.

Course Objectives:

1. Illustrate the importance of diversity in this era of globalization.
2. Articulate the positives and challenges created by our changing cultural landscape.
3. Describe and give examples of the demographic, technological, and social changes that are responsible for the growing importance of diversity.
4. Analyze how the social and cultural context mediates teaching and learning.
5. Analyze how social structures of race, class, gender, (dis)ability, and sexuality work to create relations that privilege to some and deny opportunity to others.
6. Identify and evaluate those diversity skills that promote a more inclusive school and work environment.
7. Articulate the major concepts, principles, theories, and research related to the nature and role of culture and cultural groups to promote working and learning environments that support the cultural identities of students.
8. Explain and apply selected dimensions of diversity to oneself and one's life experiences.

A matrix that aligns course objectives, activities, assessments, and standards can be viewed on the last page of the syllabus.

IDEA Objectives: In this course, our focus will be on these major objectives:

Essential: Developing specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course.

Important: Developing knowledge and understanding of diverse perspectives, global awareness, or other cultures.

by-case basis by the professor. In all cases, visitors must not present a disruption to the class by their attendance.

ATTENDANCE EXPECTATIONS

Punctual and regular attendance is expected. In an online class, this is measured by completing tasks on the scheduled due date. Failing to complete work on time will be considered an absence. Each absence after the first one will result in the deduction of 3 percentage points from final grade. Remember that all assignments need to be submitted in order for a student to receive an “A” grade in the course regardless of the number of points earned.

LATE ASSIGNMENT POLICY

Please pay special attention to observe the due dates for each of the assignments. If you are aware of problems or special situations BEFORE the due dates, ask your classmate to submit for you or contact the professor for special arrangements. If your work is submitted later than the day specified, the following points are deducted from the assignment:

1. Up to 24 hours-5% of the total assessed points are deducted.
2. 25-72 hours-10% of the total assessed points are deducted.
3. By the next class meeting 15% of the total points assessed are deducted.
4. Any other late assignment may not be accepted (each case is handled separately).

Time requirement

For each hour in class, you will be expected to commit at least three hours outside of class. It is expected that if you enroll in this course, you can meet the time requirements.

Professionalism policy

Since you are studying to be educational role models, you will be expected to display professional behavior in all aspects online.

College of Education Information

Accreditation

The programs within the SHSU College of Education have the distinction of receiving accreditation and national recognition from multiple accrediting bodies. All educator certification programs, including teaching and professional certifications, have received ongoing accreditation from the Texas Education Agency (TEA). Additionally, the educator preparation program has been accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP-formerly NCATE) since 1954. Many of the educator preparation concentration areas have also chosen to pursue national recognition from their respective Specialized Professional Associations (SPA), signifying the program is among the best in the nation. The programs within the Department of Counselor Education have also received accreditation from the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP).

Course and Program Evaluation

Near the end of the semester, students are asked to take part in the University's adopted course evaluation system, IDEA. The assessments are completed online and instructions are emailed to each student. Students' assessments of courses taken are systematically reviewed by the Dean, Associate Deans, Department Chairs, and individual faculty members. Only after the semester has completed are faculty members allowed to view aggregated results of non-personally-identifiable student responses.

The College of Education conducts ongoing research regarding the effectiveness of the programs. Students receive one survey in the final semester prior to graduation regarding the operations of the unit during their time here. A second survey occurs within one year following completion of a program, and is sent to students and their employers. This survey requests information related to students' quality of preparation while at SHSU. Students' responses to these surveys are critical to maintaining SHSU's programs' excellence.
