ESSENTIAL: Learning to apply course material to improve thinking, problem solving, and making decisions.

IMPORTANT: Developing specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course.

IMPORTANT: Learning how to find and use resources for answering questions or solving problems.

Course Requirements:

Detailed guidelines for the following assignments are given in the appropriate Blackboard course units along with the materials for reading and learning. Assignments are due by Saturday midnight of the unit / week noted here; opening discussion posts are due by unit's midpoint (usually Wednesday); and responses to others' posts are due by Saturday.

- ALL assignments (including discussion board posts, even if they are late and you receive no credit points) must be submitted to pass the course.
- Please do not submit assignments by email unless instructed to do so. Use the unit's submission link as provided.
- Late assignment policy: Due dates are clearly given, and in general, late work is not accepted. In exceptional cases, when pre-arranged in collaboration with the instructor, late work may be accepted with loss of points.
- Several assignments must also be submitted to the TK20 link (thus contributing to your professional portfolio).
- Note that completion of a practice TExES 150 School Librarian exam will be required for receiving credit for this course. The test will require your physical attendance at a predetermined site, and details for locations and dates for the practice exam will be provided.

TK20: Note that ALL THREE benchmark assignments must be uploaded as ONE artifact in the same assessment to TK20 before the end of the course term (POLICY AND PROCEDURES MANUAL, FIVE-YEAR LONG-RANGE PLAN, and SCHOOL LIBRARY ASSESSMENT AND REFLECTION).

This is a challenging course requiring significant reading and advance preparation for major assignments. Be aware of the schedule and due dates given below. The following list is dynamic, and some assignments may be dropped or amended with timely notification provided to students.

Course Assignments:

ZOOM CLASS DISCUSSION AND BEGINNING PERSONAL INTRODUCTION –

Then you will read and respond to the introductions of others. (Intro Unit, due by January 20; 10 points can be earned)

DISCUSSION BOARD—Each of the 11 units will direct your reading and thinking to a topic pertinent to the unit's content. A significant portion of your course learning and grade will come from your participation in this community. (For each unit, your initial post responding to topic prompt is due by unit's mid-point; responses to your classmates should occur between the mid-point and the unit's ending; 10 points to be earned each unit for 11 units = 110 points).

(Unit 9; due by April 21; 25 points can be earned).

Course Grade:

Your final grade for this course derives from a simple formula of points earned divided by the total points possible (260). The resulting percentage will yield a letter grade. Those letter grades are:

Earning 90% (and up) of points possible = A
Earning 80% (and up) of points possible = B
Earning 70% (and up) of points possible = C

College of Education Information

Accreditation

The programs within the SHSU College of Education have the distinction of receiving accreditation and national recognition from multiple accrediting bodies. All educator certification programs, including teaching and professional certifications, have received ongoing accreditation from the Texas Education Agency (TEA). Additionally, the educator preparation program has been accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP-formerly NCATE) since 1954. Many of the educator preparation concentration areas have also chosen to pursue national recognition from their respective Specialized Professional Associations (SPA), signifying the program is among the best in the nation. The programs within the Department of Counselor Education have also received accreditation from the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP).

Course and Program Evaluation

Near the end of the semester, students are asked to take part in the University's adopted course evaluation system, IDEA. The assessments are completed online and instructions are emailed to each student. Students' assessments of courses are taken and are systematically reviewed by the Dean, Associate Deans, Department Chairs, and individual faculty members. Only after the semester has completed are faculty members allowed to view aggregated results of non-personally-identifiable student responses.

The College of Education conducts ongoing research regarding the effectiveness of the programs. Students receive one survey in the final semester prior to graduation regarding the operations of the unit during their time here. A second survey occurs within one year following completion of a program, and is sent to students and their employers. This survey requests information related to students' quality of preparation while at SHSU. Students' responses to these surveys are critical to maintaining SHSU's programs' excellence.

The Conceptual Framework and Model

The COE Conceptual Framework establishes the shared vision of the college in preparing educators to work with P-12 students through programs dedicated to collaboration in instruction, field experience, and research, the candidates in Sam Houston State University's Educator Preparation Programs acquire the knowledge, dispositions, and skills necessary to create a positive learning environment preparing educators to work with P-12 students. Employing a variety of technologies, candidates learn to plan, implement, assess, and modify instruction to meet the needs of diverse learners. The Conceptual Framework (CF) incorporates five (5) indicators throughout the framework that serve to identify areas tied to course work where there is evidence of Conceptual Framework and goals assessment. The five indicators are: Knowledge Base (CF1), Technological Learning Environment (CF2), Communication (CF3), Assessment (CF4), and Effective Field Experience with Diverse Learners (CF5)

CF: Conceptual Framework

CAEP: Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (see page 20-21 of CAEP Standards for cross-cutting themes and diversity characteristics)

NCATE: National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education

SHSU Dispositions and Diversity Proficiency (DDP) Standards

The Dispositions and Diversity Proficiency (DDP) Standards are administered and evaluated in prescribed courses to all educator preparation student in initial and advanced programs (please provide additional information for the candidate if the DDP is administered during your course).

In the Master of Library Science Program, the Key Assessment and Assignments allow candidates the opportunity to complete the described diversity requirements. These assessments include:

- Beginning Program Dispositions (LSSL 5370)
- Proficient Dispositions (LSSL 5366)

Diversity of Experiences (Field and Employment):

As a graduate candidate in the College of Education it is expected that you will have experiences with students in diverse settings. These experiences may or may not be directly related to your course work, and should be a product of the different settings where you have been employed or sought additional knowledge. In order to meet the standards Sam Houston State University has adopted you should document multiple and varied (diverse) field experiences. Additionally, you should complete a written reflection highlighting the totality of your experiences. The goal of this requirement is to monitor your experiences in diverse settings, reflect upon these experiences and your growth and development in knowledge, skills, and dispositions in teaching in diverse classrooms. This reflection and the summary of diverse field experiences chart must be uploaded into Tk20 as part of an existing course assignment.

Multiple and varied areas of diverse field experiences include, participation with exceptional populations of students and students from different ethnic, racial, gender, socioeconomic, language, and religious groups. It is expected that some of these experiences will not occur at your current place of employment. We understand that the term field experience may not fully fit the experience and information you provide. You may use past or current employment placements.
