

DANIELLE LANGLOIS - SEPTEMBER 13, 2017

Phone: (936)689-7464

langloiskdanielle@gmail.com

EDUCATION

- Bachelors of Art in Psychology, University of Texas at Arlington, TX,
May 2015
- Master of Arts in Psychology, Stephen F. Austin State University, TX,
May 2017
Advisor: Scott Drury, Ph.D.
Thesis: Effects of Prosocial Video Games on Resulting Prosocial
Behaviors

PRIMARY RESEARCH/ TEACHING INTERESTS

- Social Influences on behaviors/identity/attitudes
- Interpersonal relationships (specifically romantic/sexual relationships)
- Video Games
- Internet focused “new” media and technology
- Personality
- Statistics and Research design

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

- Primary Investigator
Department of Psychology
Stephen F. Austin State University

2016- 2017

- Thesis: Effects of Prosocial Video Games on Resulting Prosocial Behaviors

- Responsibilities:

- Literature review
- Writing/organizing materials
- Study Design
- Data Collection
- Data Analysis

- Research Assistant

Department of Psychology

Stephen F. Austin State University

2015- 2016

- Principle Investigator: Dr. Sarah Savoy

- Responsibilities:

- Intellectual Contributions to Study Design
- Helped build the study in Qualtrics by inputting measures and creating media for the study
- Presented poster on findings at a conference

- Research Assistant

Department of Psychology

University of Texas at Arlington

2014-2015

- Personality Lab lead by Dr. William Ickes

- Responsibilities:

- Participant Coding on two separate projects, one journaling study and the other an interpersonal interaction study

- Research Assistant

Department of Psychology
University of Texas at Arlington
2015

- Cognitive Lab Lead by Dr. Daniel Levine
 - Responsibilities:
 - Literature Review for problem solving and sensory input
 - Data Collection

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

- Pool Faculty Member, Classes: Learning (PSYC 4332), Development (PSYC 3375), and Personality (PSYC 4331)
 - Department of Psychology and Philosophy
Sam Houston State University
Fall 2017
- Two Supplementary Study Sessions on APA Style Writing and Acquiring Peer Reviewed Sources in General Psychology
 - Department of Psychology
Stephen F. Austin State University
Spring 2017
- Two Guest Lectures on Cognition in General Psychology
 - Department of Psychology
Stephen F. Austin State University
Spring 2017
- Two Guest Lectures on Consciousness and Sleep in General Psychology
 - Department of Psychology
Stephen F. Austin State University
Spring 2017

- Four Supplementary Study Sessions on APA Style Writing and Acquiring Peer Reviewed Sources in General Psychology
 - Department of Psychology
Stephen F. Austin State University
Fall 2016
- Guest Lecture on Commonly Used Licit Drugs in Abnormal Psychology
 - Department of Psychology
Stephen F. Austin State University
Fall 2016
- Assisted Guest Lecture for Final Exam Review
 - Department of Psychology
Stephen F. Austin State University
Spring 2016
- Guest Lecture on Consciousness and Sleep in General Psychology
 - Department of Psychology
Stephen F. Austin State University
Fall 2015

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

- Firdausya, N., Langlois, D., Savoy, S. (April, 2016) Cognitive Emotion Regulation and Daily Hassles Poster presented at the Southwestern Psychological Association research conference.

DEPARTMENTAL INVOLVEMENT

- Hosted/Organized Stephen F. Austin State University Psychology Department “Brownbag Lunch” meetings (2016)

AWARDS

- Graduate Assistantship 2016-2017 Stephen F. Austin State University
 - General Psychology (Psy 133) and Abnormal Psychology (Psy 375)
 - Duties: Grading, proctoring exams, guest lecturing, holding office hours to assist students

RELEVANT SKILLS

- Survey and experimental software: Qualtrics, Inquisit
- Statistical Analysis: SPSS

LICENSURES AND CERTIFICATIONS

- Question, Persuade, and Refer (QPR), Stephen F. Austin State University (2016). Training which aids an individual in responding to suicide threat.
- Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative (CITI), Stephen F. Austin State University (2015). Training for ethical human research.