Sam Houston State University provides services to help Pre-Health professional students prepare for and apply to professional schools. Services are available while enrolled at SHSU and as needed after graduation. Click on the profession or service highlighted in the sidebar to learn more about your intended profession and services available to help you become a competitive applicant.

Preparation for your professional health career commences in the first semester of your Freshman year. It is critical to begin by receiving advisement for the courses and course sequences appropriate to your professional interests and goals. Typically, Pre-Professional students work toward a Bachelor of Science degree. Professional schools do not require a specific academic major or minor. However, since most of your prerequisite courses are in the sciences, a science major provides an efficient way of preparing for professional school admission exams.
