About the Committee Book

The University's Committee Book, updated annually, lists committees and their purposes, the methods of appointment to these committees, methods of reporting, and the makeup of membership, including the number of faculty and a roster of members with the dates on which the terms expire. These committees work closely with the administration and provide advisory services to the Provost and President concerning items such as the budget, strategic planning, curriculum, diversity, grievances, etc. The University Faculty Senate chair also sits on numerous committees working in conjunction with the administration and representing the faculty on these committees. Examples of the important committees on which the University Faculty Senate Chair serves are the Calendar Committee, Budget Committee, Academic Affairs Council and Strategic Planning. The committees' structures, charges, and membership are all available online in the Committee Book.
