Bearkat Bridge: Is it Right for You?

Bearkat Bridge is for you if you are getting ready to take the TSIA OR if you have taken the TSIA and did not receive scores showing college readiness.

Bearkat Bridge is an online refresher program that helps identify concepts in math, reading, and writing you may have forgotten and need to review. After completing the program, you can take the TSIA again. If your scores meet the college readiness mark, you can go straight into your credit-bearing courses and avoid having to take extra developmental classes. However, even if your scores don't meet the college readiness mark, you have the option to enroll in a support class while taking your on-level math class.

Bearkat Bridge is online, so you can work from home, but personal support is available online and in-person. Tutors and teachers will be available every Monday-Thursday at our Main campus in Huntsville and online in the evenings and weekends. See our current hours on the right sidebar.
