

Online CampusFaculty CentralCoursesLibraryStudent Central Lisa Shen 4Welcome

Welcome

Welcome

Teaching online with Blackboard is not that far removed from teaching in the classroom. The main difference is that here, you are the classroom designer. You build the classroom; the walls, the desks etc. The environment is yours to mold into something that suits your teaching style, blending your face-to-face teaching with the range of possibilities that the online environment provides. This orientation site will help you gain the skills necessary to teach well in an online environment.

Teaching Online with Blackboard Overview

This overview will provide you with the skills and knowledge you need to succeed as an online teacher in Blackboard.

Click on Teaching Online with Blackboard Overview above to find out more about:

- Learning outcomes for this course
- How the course is put together
- Recommendations on how to proceed through the course
- Hardware and software recommendations
- Recommended browser plug-ins

What's Next?

Before you continue through this course, it might be a good idea to have a look at the 'Getting Started' course for students. This will give you an understanding of what your students should know about eLearning and Blackboard. To access the student orientation course just click the Getting Started tab on the upper right-hand side of the browser window.

Next, we'll take a look at Strategies for Success and Myths when Teaching Online.

Blackboard

© 1997-2017 Blackboard Inc. All Rights Reserved. U.S. Patent No. 7,493,396 and 7,558,853. Additional Patents Pending.

Accessibility information •
Installation details