Greetings!

My name is Jordan Chang and I am the Assistant Director of the Center for Diversity & Intercultural Affairs at Sam Houston State University. Our office is dedicated to assisting the university in maintaining an all-inclusive campus community where our diversity is appreciated and celebrated.

It is an exciting time for us at Sam Houston State University as we set gear for another great year! We have events ranging from our monthly "Chat & Chews," which seek to engage students in healthy and productive dialogue in regards to diversity, to our annual Diversity Leadership Conference, which will take place on February 23-24, 2018. Services that we offer our students include an ever-growing resource library, in which students are able to check out books that they may find of interest, to our support for cultural student organizations that may need assist in planning their events!

I welcome you all to look around our website and see all that we have to offer. Furthermore, I encourage you to check out our events throughout the year and to stop by the Center for Diversity & Intercultural Affairs (LSC 324A) with questions, comments, or concerns.
